

for family child care

for family child care providers family child care is mixed-age, single-teacher, small group, often in the provider's own home. tiny signals is a writing layer one provider can use on one device, with no roster upload, no co-teacher login, and no system to install.

the fcc fit

- one provider, one device. nothing is shared by default. no co-teacher account is required.
- mixed-age writing: a daily handoff for an eighteen month old and for a four year old, written separately.

what it covers

asq, deca, daily handoffs, conference write ups, incident notes, weekly planning grid.

what it is not

not a parent billing system, not an attendance ledger, not a licensing audit trail. it is the writing layer.
